

The Friends of Archer Park Rail Museum, Rockhampton Queensland

Miscellaneous Artefacts

Museums typically have thousands of other pieces of equipment and artefacts, many of which are not on view at any one time. At Archer Park this includes everything from the crockery used in the Refreshment Room to the tools used for maintenance and railway operations.

Refreshment Room with piano playing mannequin. Staff biographies and photos are hung on the walls.[lz 1688]

An original 'thunder box' toilet, with paper for 'recycling' and wood shaving pail. [lz 1683]

The LSR (locomotive shunt runner) Wagon, for example, was used to convey shunters around the marshalling yard or to connect between transitional link and automatic couplers.

LSR 28890 with its multiple coupling types. [lz 7993]

A selection of railway jacks used for lifting rail, wagons and locomotives. [lz 0332]

